

LOCAL BOYS AT ROSECRANS ARE ON HEAVY GUNS

Reports Are They Are to Get Speedy Training and Then Go to France.

ARE IN COAST ARTILLERY

Physical Rejections Made Indicate Quick Route to Active Service.

The 165 Rock Island selectives at Fort Rosecrans may see foreign service even before drafted men who preceded them to training camps.

This is the report which comes from the California fort where the local boys are in training in the coast artillery service, under the direction of veteran regular army officers. Colonel Pourie is commander of the fort. Major Cunningham is in charge of the training of the men.

Reports are that the men who were trained at the fort just previous to the arrival of the local selectives, were only given a three months' course and then were dispatched to France, being transferred from the coast artillery service to the heavy artillery with the American expeditionary forces overseas. Rumors at Fort Rosecrans are that the local boys will receive their preliminary instructions in the handling of the guns, ranging in size from 5 to 15 inches, then will be transported across the sea and later will be placed in the service of handling the field pieces which are moved and operated on railroad cars at the front.

Another indication that the local men are to be hurried through a complete training course is indicated in the rejections made at the California fort.

Reject Four or Five.

As far as can be learned four or five men from this city have already been rejected because of the very stringent physical test given. Men rejected expressed the opinion that had they been sent to an ordinary training camp they would not have been rejected. The Rock Island men are still in quarantine. There are only 640 men in training at the fort. The camp is near the fort, the boys sleeping in tents. They have shower baths and other comforts provided for in the regular national army campgrounds. The men are in four companies of about one hundred fifty men to a troop.

The fort is across the bay from San Diego. The city is 10 miles distant. Although still in quarantine and facing an intensive training course, the boys no doubt will be given a chance occasionally to visit the city. A government boat will carry them across the bay to San Diego without cost to them or they can ride on a passenger boat or trolley line for 15 cents. Near them is a naval quarantine station and Camp Kearney, a national guard training camp; also on an island in the bay is an aviation field.

Businesslike Methods.

The boys were impressed with the businesslike methods in which everything was done. There being only 640 men in the contingent which arrived at the fort, they received more individual attention than otherwise might have been given them. They were placed in quarantine immediately upon arrival, but no uniforms were given out. Instructions went to the company captains to wait until the quarantine period, which ends a week from tomorrow, is over before the uniforms are given, because the plan is to discharge all men not up to a high standard physically. More rejections are looked for because of the desire of the officers in charge of the fort to prepare a battalion of men ready for active duty within the course of a short time.

But while everything was businesslike, the Rock Island boys marveled at the kind treatment accorded them. They found their officers ever willing to help and advise them, and although there were some sore arms from the inoculations given against disease, they immediately got into the military spirit of the camp and began learning their duties with promptness. All of the boys agreed that the government knows how to handle its men. The trip was pleasant, even though long. They were well fed and cared for with all the necessities possible to receive while on the train.

Among the boys discharged because of physical disability are: Arthur C. McCarthy, Fred Gegenheimer, Frank E. Percy and William Jacobs. They have returned home.

Scripture

John 12:44-50.

Jesus cried and said, he that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on Him that sent Me.

And he that seeth Me seeth Him that sent Me.

I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on Me should not abide in darkness.

And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not; for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

He that rejecteth Me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him; the words that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

For I have not spoken of myself, but the Father which sent Me, He gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.

I know that His commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto Me, so I speak.

SPEAKS TOMORROW AT LOCAL TEMPLE

F. T. Horth.

Mr. Horth has just returned from a speaking tour through the northwest. His doctrines include the theory that the idea of world destruction by fire is merely a hallucination and not based on reason or the bible, but is like many other misrepresentations of God's character and plan. There will be no charge for the lecture.

GERMANY IS NOT BETTER OFF FOR HOMES THAN U. S.

Housing is a serious problem in Germany as well as in America, according to the United States department of labor, which is about to publish an account taken from official German reports. Building has practically ceased in the great German cities. Only one-ninth as many houses were built in 1916 as in 1912, and the houses are much smaller. The total number of houses erected in the 45 largest German cities in Germany was only 1,009 during 1916 and still less in 1917. The total number of houses erected in all Germany was much less than the number built in any one of a dozen American cities.

In such cities as Berlin, Hamburg and Frankfurt building has long since ceased. Only in the great war-industrial towns is there any construction of any kind. It is in these latter towns such as Essen and Kiel that there is any present shortage of houses. The war has depleted the population of Berlin and Hamburg so that they do not suffer even though they have less and poorer accommodations than formerly. So Germany has the spectacle of industrial towns packed to the point of discomfort, while her great cities are empty. In all Germany there is one house in 12 is idle; in Bremen, one in 15; in Berlin, one in 16; in Hamburg, which with its shipping and export trade was a rapidly expanding hive of industry before the war, over 6 per cent of the houses are absolutely vacant; in Bonn, 4 per cent are idle; in Frankfurt on the Main, 5.3 per cent. No new houses are built and the old ones wear out, but the population is being depleted faster than the houses.

But while the cities stagnate workmen are packed in the great munition cities. Less than 1 per cent of the dwellings are idle in eight of the cities where war industries flourish. Among these cities are Essen, Erfurt, Kiel, Lubek, Stettin, Brandenburg, Konigsberg, and Magdeburg. Conditions at Kiel are particularly deplorable. Only one house in 500 is vacant and the number of uninhabitable places is normally higher than this.

ENTRAIN LOCAL MEN APRIL 29

Board Receives Orders to Send Men to Camp Dodge on Last Monday of Month.

CITY'S QUOTA SET AT 69

Contingents From 11 Illinois Counties Will Pass Through City on Same Date.

Definite orders for the entrainment of Rock Island's quota of 69 men on the first call of the second draft were received yesterday afternoon by the local exemption board.

The men will leave the city at 12:10 p. m., Monday, April 29, arriving at Des Moines at 6 o'clock in the evening. The trip from Des Moines to camp will be made by interurban.

The list of registrants from this district, which was given out by the board last week, may be subject to some alterations before the date of entrainment. Eighteen selectives whose names appeared on the list have filed applications with the board to be inducted into special service as skilled workmen. Whether or not men who are in the next call will be accepted before the service is not known by the board. A query has been sent to Adjutant General Dickson at Springfield, and the board is awaiting his decision in the matter. If permission is given to induct these men into the branches for which they have applied, it will mean that more men will have to be called in order to fill the vacancies. The board placed the names of only nine alternates on the original list.

Others On Train.

Including the men from this district, 894 Illinois draft men will pass through Rock Island on April 29th, enroute to Camp Dodge.
